DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the given direction running parallel to said radiation exit face and at least one of said side faces forming an angle between 40° and 50° with said given direction must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s).

No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The application as originally filed does not adequately describe the principal crystal directions as it does not indicate whether there are only two principal crystal directions or there is a third principal crystal direction which is not shown in fig. 1.

4. Claims 3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The recitation calling for “... said principal crystal directions includes a given direction running parallel to said radiation exit face and at least on of said side faces forming an angle of between 40° and 50° or 45° (as in claim 7) with said given direction” is not enabled because the specification does not disclose how the at least one of said side faces can form an angle of between 40° and 50° with a principal crystal direction which runs parallel to a radiation exit face.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not understood how a side face which is perpendicular to a radiation exit face can be disposed obliquely or form an angle of between 40° and 50° or 45° (as in claim 7) with a principal crystal direction which runs parallel to said radiation exit face.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1, 2, 4-6, 8 and 9, as understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ueki et al. (“Ueki”) USPN 6,483,860.

Ueki discloses in fig. 1 a surface emitting semiconductor laser chip or VCSEL (as in claim 6), comprising: a semiconductor body (12, 18, 14) having, at least partly, a crystal structure with principal crystal directions or [1 0 0] direction (as in claim 9), a radiation exit face, and side faces (side surfaces of region 12) laterally delimiting said semiconductor body, at least one of said side faces disposed obliquely (fig. 2) with respect to the principal crystal directions and perpendicularly with respect to said radiation exit face

Regarding claim 2, Ueki discloses semiconductor body having a rectangular cross sections disposed parallel to said radiation exit face.

As for claim 4, Ueki discloses a semiconductor body containing a substrate 10 having, at least partly, a crystal structure. Similarly, Kinoshita discloses (see claim 3) a semiconductor body containing a substrate 1 having, at least partly, a crystal structure.

As for claims 5 and 8, Ueki discloses semiconductor body containing a III-V compound semiconductor or GaAs (as in claim 8).

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed 11/23/2005 have been fully considered but they are moot in view of the new rejection.
